Dear Chairman Genachowski:

I pen this letter to comment on Comcast's proposed joint venture with NBC Universal, which I understand is currently under review by the Federal Communications Commission. I have had the pleasure to witness firsthand Comcast's commitment to promoting diversity in Denver, Colorado, and I sincerely support the opportunity for this respected corporation to grow.

As senior pastor of the Graham Memorial Community Church of God In Christ and the former head of the Black Ministerial Alliance, I have been most impressed with Comcast's commitment to promoting diversity in its programming and providing economic opportunities for minorities in our community. Comcast has shown great dedication to people of color.

It is a fact that African-American neighborhoods are often left behind when it comes to technology and infrastructure investments and Comcast has long demonstrated its commitment to our community by making meaningful investments to ensure our citizens have access to the highest quality service.

Comcast has also shown its commitment to quality African-American programming by teaming with minority-owned broadcasters to start TV One. TV One offers valuable original entertainment, news and public affairs broadcasts for an African-American audience.

Comcast has further demonstrated its commitment to diversity within its own operations by promoting educational and economic opportunities for its minority employees. Comcast invests heavily in the continuing education of its people to allow them the opportunity to rise through the ranks and turn a job into a career. It is no wonder that Comcast has been ranked among the "Most Admired Employers for Minority Professionals" by US Black Engineer and Women of Color magazines.

Comcast has a proven track record of supporting diversity in Denver and across the country. As you review this transaction, I ask that you keep this in mind.

Sincerely,

Reverend Patrick Demmer
Graham Memorial Community Church of God in Christ

Re: MB Docket No. 10-56

Dear Chairman Genachowski,

As a resident of Comcast's "home turf" in the suburbs of Philadelphia, and as the Director of Development for the Delaware County SPCA, I write today to urge you to keep in mind Comcast's role as a leader in our community.

Comcast's support and ingenuity has enabled us to provide a safe shelter for animals. Comcast has provided us with invaluable public service announcements helping to raise awareness of our organization. With Comcast's support their employees have volunteered their time and effort to help care for our furry friends.

However perhaps the best example of Comcast's commitment to SPCA and our community is their Pets On Demand programming. Pets On Demand is a innovative new programming concept that leverages Comcast's On Demand platform to showcase the animals available for adoption at local SPCA shelters. This program has been a tremendous success at placing animals in loving homes and is further proof Comcast's commitment to localism.

It's important to remember that Comcast's development of our nation's technological infrastructure isn't just about entertainment – sometimes it's what helps find a pet the shelter and love it deserves. I am proud to be part of the Comcast community and look forward to continuing to work with them, and their new partner NBC.

Sincerely,

Fran Franchi
Director of Development

RE: MB Docket No. 10-56

Dear Chairman Genachowski:

I am pleased to offer the views of the Chester County Chamber of Business and Industry on the Comcast-NBC Universal joint venture that is currently under consideration by the Commission.

The Chester County Chamber of Business and Industry began as an instrument for activism and community involvement among like-minded business leaders. Through membership and community initiatives, the Chamber works towards extending the exceptional quality of life enjoyed by the residents and workers of Chester County. Years of solid growth and commitment from the Chamber's membership has brought the organization to where it is today, a vibrant and forward thinking association of businesses ready to embrace the challenges of the 21st century. As you can imagine, we are greatly invested in seeing that Chester County move forward as a great place to live, work, and raise a family.

Comcast is equally committed to improving Chester County and has shown its support for our community in numerous ways. Comcast has sponsored a number of our annual events, small business programs, and government affairs forums, which it airs on the local community access channel. The company is also a strong supporter of our Youth Leadership Program, the goal of which is to create opportunities for Chester County high school students of diverse backgrounds to develop leadership skills, learn about Chester County-based career options, and to interact with leaders of major industries countywide. We have also been proud to work with Comcast on its very successful Comcast Cares Day, during which the company's employees and families donate hundreds of hours of community service.

Comcast has long demonstrated to the people of Chester County that it is invested in the future of this community. I think this is illustrative of a company that stands by its commitments when it comes to localism and serving the interests of consumers. Please keep these thoughts in mind as you review Comcast's and NBC's plans for their joint venture.

Sincerely,
